

PRESS RELEASE

Local business couple, Jacqui and Anthony Bucke, have recently acquired a warehouse in ILMINSTER. The 15,000 square foot premises, on a site of almost 1 acre, is in Station Road, just 1 minute from the A303, and 15 minutes from the M5 at Taunton. Occupying a commanding position adjacent to Bradfords, most of the property will be occupied by the Buckes' warehousing and transport business, Doblexpress Ltd.

The premises were formerly occupied by Powrmatic Ltd who have consolidated at their Hortbridge and Winterhay Lane sites.

Jacqui and Anthony Bucke are well-known and popular in the Crewkerne area from their 25 years at Crewkerne Furniture Emporium, where they developed an "Aladin's Cave" of used and new furniture and made many long-term friends in the antique and furniture trade. Taking the opportunity to sell their business in 2002, they rejoined industry and commerce after a short break, forming Doblexpress.

Doblexpress Ltd was founded in 2003, and has grown to be a leading provider of dedicated courier and freight solutions for local businesses seeking an immediate and reliable same day and next day service, door to door. The addition of a warehouse facility adds a fresh dimension to Doblexpress, with space for over 1,000 pallets in the heated, racked, and serviced warehouse. Additional services will include overnight pallet delivery, order picking, wrapping and packing, inventory control, and integrated deliveries throughout the UK, Europe and worldwide.

Anthony Bucke commented: "This is good news for Iminster, and our clients. We already have job opportunities for experienced drivers, warehouse staff and traffic clerks. Relocating allows us to offer improved response times, and a far wider range of services"
